

Ivana joined the ICC International Court of Arbitration as Deputy Counsel in February 2015. In her functions, Ivana supervises hundreds of arbitration proceedings from France, Switzerland, Benelux as well from the regions of West Africa and Middle-East under the 1998 and 2012 ICC Rules of Arbitration and the ICC Rules as Appointing Authority. These disputes are both commercial and investment by nature and stem from various economic sectors such as intellectual property, finance, energy and construction.

Before joining the ICC, Ivana worked in the corporate, finance and arbitration departments of international law firms and companies in Zambia and France.

Ivana obtained her Bachelor of Laws in European and International Public Law from University of Sorbonne, from where she also holds a Master degree in International Private Law. She further obtained a second Master in Corporate Common Law Governance from University of Descartes.
